DAMRON DID NOT AMBUSH MADRY AS FIRST REPORTED

Victim of Shooting In Living-ton Is Slowly Recovering.

Fire at Greenville Destroys Mill.

A WIFE FOUND UNCONSCIOUS

Smithland, Ky., Oct. 15. (Special.)—Facts brought out at the preliminary hearing of Stoke Damron, of Livingston county, charged with the murder of Finis Madry, disprove the first story of an ambush. Damron, who offered no defense, was held to the grand jury, but it is believed he will introduce a plea of self-defense if the fact that he did the shooting is established by the state. The three Madry boys were tenants on Damron's place and there had been trouble between them on account of shooting. The night of this affair all of them were returning from church, the Madry boys in the rear. There was some shooting and Damron went back and ordered them to stop. That was the end of the affair for the time. Damron passed the Madry boys' home and went to his own on the same place. Later, it is alleged by the Madry boys, he returned to their home with a gun and as they were passing through their gate, he shot Finis Madry without warning. However, a state's witness testified at the hearing that he heard two revolver shots before he heard the report of the gun, supposed to have been fired by Damron.

Madry is improving and it is expected he will recover.

Walter Wellman Starts Across Atlantic Ocean In His Dirigible Balloon "America" This Morning

Up to That Hour.

Atlantic City, N. J., Oct. 15.—Walter Wellman, with Mervin Caniman, a noted engineer, with a crew of six in the great dirigible "America," started shortly after 8 o'clock this morning in an attempt to cross the Atlantic ocean. After he got into the air a heavy wind carried the balloon seaward. Wellman signalled that the European voyage had started. The balloon disappeared in the fog.

At 11:05 the first wireless from the dirigible "America" was received here. It reads: "Headed northeast. All well on board. Machinery working fine. Good bye. J. Irwin."

Wellman carried a wireless instrument.

Washington, Oct. 15.—Claude Grahame-White, the English aviator, flew from Benning race track to Washington, a distance of three miles, and made a successful landing in executive avenue between the White House and the state, war and navy building. The flight was made for the purpose of paying respects to Gen. Allen, chief signal officer of the army.

Official business in the big government building was suspended in order to welcome the aviator.

With perfect ease Mr. White, after luncheon with army and navy officers, ascended from the narrow street and sailed away toward the Washington monument and back to Benning, a distance of more than three miles as the crow flies.

The ascent was even more difficult than the one Mr. White performed in alighting in the street upon his arrival.

PRIMARY LAW IS CONSTITUTIONAL

ILLINOIS NOMINATIONS OF SEPTEMBER 13 WILL STAND.

Springfield, Ill., Oct. 15.—The state supreme court upheld the constitutionality of the Illinois primary law. The court sustained the demurrer of Attorney General Stead to the petition of Joseph McNenny and Charles Estey, who argued that the law in limiting the number of legislative candidates was unconstitutional. McNenny and Estey had applied for a writ of mandamus to compel the state board of canvassers to place their names on the official ballot. As a result the legislative nominations of September 13 will stand.

Chief Justice Vickers announced that Justices Farmer and Cook, Democrats, and Hand and Vickers, Republicans, voted in favor of the law; and Justices Cartwright, Dunn and Carter, Republicans, dissented.

Ice War Results in Indictment of Breweries—They Are Charged With Conspiring to Reduce the Price

Plumbers are Not Indicted and Guy Dean Is Dismissed—Makes Final Report to Court.

No indictments were returned today by the grand jury in the alleged conspiracy among the plumbers of the city, and the grand jury returned the minutes, referring the case to the next grand jury.

Charging a conspiracy to reduce the price of the ice and drive out competition, the grand jury returned an indictment this afternoon against the Paducah Brewery company, the Frank Fehr Brewing company, the Cook Brewing company, the Henderson Brewing company, and the Anheuser-Busch Brewing company. This is the outcome of the ice war. Before the Paducah Brewery went into the business, cutting the price, the Paducah ice company had most of the business. Afterwards the ice company began and handled Wellman's beer at cut rates. The indictments are the result of the local ice war, which brought about reduced prices.

The grand jury made its final report this afternoon when two indictments were returned. A number of cases were referred to the next grand jury. The cases dismissed are: F. C. Balder, false swearing; Harry Williams, Bob Grims and Claud Mason, robbery; Dick Allison, grand larceny. The cases referred to the next grand jury are: Ed Mitchell, Bob Deboe, trespass; Henry Sparks, malicious striking; John Brenneridge, robbery; Claud Ross, petit larceny; Ed Wood, malicious striking; Arthur Bryant, grand larceny; Jim Taylor, robbery.

Dean Not Indicted.
The grand jury failed to indict Guy Dean, who was dismissed at the examining trial for taking part in the Pool road murder. The only indictment returned was against Tommie Farrin, who is in jail upon the strength of his confession. By agreement, his bond was fixed at $1,000 today, and his attorneys say that he will execute bond in a few days. No indictment was returned for John Hunt, for whose arrest a warrant was sworn out in the county court, charging him with the Pool road murder.

Twenty-eight Indictments.
Twenty-eight indictments were returned this morning by the grand jury when it made a report. Most of the indictments were for persons not before the court, and the names of the defendants were not given out. However, the grand jury did a little investigating and returned a batch of indictments against women for maintaining nuisances in the city.

The indictments given out are: Julia White, malicious cutting; Alonzo Harrison, malicious cutting; Milus Stewart, malicious cutting; Rachael Jackson, murder; Howard Warsaw, petit larceny; Brooks Hobson, petit larceny; Champ Howard, petit larceny; Ed Vasseur, appropriating money of another to his own use.

The grand jury also filed its report on the public buildings. After the cursory inspection the grand jurors reported that the county almshouse was in good condition and that the inmates received good food and attention. The county jail was reported in as good condition as possible, but recommended that the county needs a new building, in order to have better sanitary conditions. The court house and yard were reported in good condition.

Prisoners Sentenced.
The prisoners convicted at the criminal session were sentenced this morning by Circuit Judge Reed. Under the new law the prisoners are not sentenced for any definite number of years, but the prison commissioners decide how many years the prisoners shall be confined in the penitentiary. There was only one white prisoner, Ford Jackson, charged with obtaining money by false pretenses, and he was sentenced to serve a term ranging from one to five years. Also there is only one woman, Mattie McReynolds, colored, charged with grand larceny, who was sentenced to the Frankfort penitentiary for a term of from one year to five years.

The colored men sentenced are: Dan Owens, malicious striking, one to five years; Albert Berger, horse stealing, two to ten years; Henry Bell, breaking, store room, one to five years; George Knapper, obtaining money by false pretenses, one to five years; Griffin Moore, grand larceny, one to five years. Freeman Torian, colored, convicted on the charge of malicious cutting, was granted a new trial. The motion of Mattie McReynolds for a new trial was overruled.

Civil Cases.
A. Davis vs. L. Davis, divorce granted.
Hite vs. Hite; amended petition filed.

G. D. Palmer, guardian, vs. G. D. Palmer; motion to set aside order confirming sale of real estate by master commissioner filed.

Suits for Divorce.
Katie Jones filed suit for divorce from James Jones alias James Drake, alleging that her husband is guilty of cruel treatment, and that last May she was driven from her home after a fistie encounter. Last Saturday in circuit court Drake was acquitted on the charge of the murder of John Gibson. Attorneys for Drake were busy preparing a divorce petition on his behalf, when served with a notice of the wife's application for divorce.

Irene Marie and William Ray filed suit against the Metropolitan Life Insurance company for the payment of a policy of $167 held on the life of their brother, David Ray, who died September 26.

Alice Wood filed suit against Edwin Wood for divorce. The couple married December 21, 1907, and separated in August, 1909, when she alleges that her husband abandoned her. She asks for a divorce and the restoration of her maiden name, Alice Taylor.

Herbert Rice filed suit against the Paducah Traction company for damages as the result of alleged personal injuries. He alleges that he was riding in an express wagon that was struck by a street car, and he suffered permanent injuries. He sues for $1,500 damages, and expenses during his illness.

Ruby May Rudolph filed suit for divorce from her husband, Alonzo Rudolph. The couple married in 1897 and separated August 22, 1909, when she alleges that her husband abandoned her. She asks for a divorce and the restoration of her maiden name.

Ora Miller filed suit against the Paducah Traction company for damages as a result of alleged personal injuries. She was riding in an express wagon, that was struck by a street car it is alleged.

Lula Jackson filed suit against the Paducah Traction company for damages as a result of alleged personal injury.

GIRL WANDERS IN STREET HOMELESS

Wandering on the streets and apparently without any home, Ethel Hollis, a pretty girl about 17 years old, was picked up by the police last night near Seventh street and Kentucky avenue. She was taken to the police station and then to Riverside hospital. She did not appear ill, but she was placed in bed and today an investigation was made. The girl said that she came to Paducah about six weeks ago from her home in Memphis, and part of the time had been employed at a laundry. She claims to have been a stenographer in Memphis, and said that her mother resided at 796 Saxon avenue. Her brother, W. I. Hollis, was notified and today he notified the hospital that he would send a ticket, and the girl will be sent to her home tomorrow. She does not appear irrational.

PRINCETON SHOPS HAVE TROUBLE OF SOME KIND TODAY

Special This Afternoon Says
Illinois Central Men Go Out.

Both Sides Here are Still Optimistic.

REMOUS ARE ALL UNFOUNDED

Princeton, Ky., Oct. 15.—(Special.)—Illinois Central carmen were called out here today.

About 25 carmen here and at Cedar Bluff and Hopkinsville went out on a sympathy strike on account of the trouble at Paducah.

Practically no change was manifested in the Illinois Central shop situation today; but all parties are still optimistic of a speedy settlement. The men apparently are still insistent on recognition of a general committee from all the unions to present the grievance of the carmen, while the railroad officials apparently regard the carmen's committee alone the proper one with which to treat.

Rumors were thick today; but as fast as they were stated to the officials and union men they were denied. It was said a proposition was made by the company to the men, but this was denied on both sides. Then a report that the officials had said if the men did not return to work at once the shops would be shut down until January, was carried to the officials, who denied making any kind of threat. There seems to be no animosity toward the other side expressed either by the leaders of the unions or the officials, and it may be authoritatively stated any rumors heard on the streets are false.

Yesterday afternoon a committee from the employees, with the exception of the carmen, called upon Mr. R. W. Bell, superintendent of machinery, on invitation, but did not discuss any grievance. Both sides say that only general topics were taken up.

Today E. W. Willard, of Centra, Ill., chairman of the advisory board of machinists, and J. H. Gore, of Memphis, a member of the advisory board, arrived and were in conference today. A. F. Carr, of Clinton, Ill., district president of the blacksmiths on the Illinois Central railroad, arrived here this morning. The railroad officials were still optimistic of a settlement soon of the trouble with the employees. Mr. J. M. Borrowdale, superintendent of the car department, said that they are in the city for the purpose of receiving a committee, but would not receive the general committee, because they know nothing about it. "There is no change in the situation today," he said. "But I will remain here over Sunday."

A. F. Carr, of Clinton, Ill., president of the blacksmiths of the Illinois Central, arrived this morning.

Farmers' Union Rally.

R. L. Barnett, state secretary-treasurer of the Kentucky Farmers' Union, left this morning for Little Cypress, where a county union meeting of the Marshall county members of the Farmers' Union was held today. The meeting was well attended, and several addresses were delivered.

Back From Clinton Court.

State Senator W. V. Eaton has returned from Bardwell and Clinton, where he went on legal business. At Clinton he had the McWhirter damage suit set for February. The case, in which Mrs. Cordie McWhirter, of Paducah, sues the Iron Mountain railroad for damages for the death of her husband, involves the federal employees' liability act.

HAROLD LEIGH IS IN CRITICAL CONDITION

The condition of Harold Leigh, youngest son of Mr. and Mrs. C. Q. C. Leigh, of Chicago, is considered critical, in the latest report received by relatives here. The little fellow was run down by an automobile, while riding his wheel, and was severely injured. His skull was fractured and complications have set in that are most serious. His sister Miss Mary Leigh, who is at Belmont, Nashville, Tenn., has been summoned home.

YANKEES DEFEAT NEW YORK GIANTS

AMERICAN LEAGUE CAPTURE SECOND OF POST SERIES.

Wiltse Lost Control and Chase's Squad Scored Four Runs in Final Inning.

NATIONAL SOUTHPAW IN AIR.

New York, Oct. 15.—Victory perched on the banners of the New York Americans when it passed the Giants in the last two innings of a well played contest and won the second game of the post series. The battle was fought on the American League grounds and the stands were packed.

It was a pitchers' contest between the left handers—Wiltse, of the Nationals, and Warhop, of the Americans—and the honors were fairly even until the last two innings when, under a storm of sharp hits, Wiltse weakened and lost control. Warhop worked splendidly throughout the game and his effectiveness increased as the innings passed.

After the third inning the Nationals got but one hit off him. Devlin alone solved Warhop's delivery, making a home run and a double which brought in three of the National's runs across the plate. Fletcher at short did sparkling work.

The Nationals were the first to tally. In the second inning Murray singled and was forced at second by Merkle. Then Devlin picked off a high shoot and sent it hurtling far ahead between Cree and Hemphill. Before the ball was returned to the diamond the flying Devlin had made the circuit. A double by Doyle and a single by Snodgrass in the third sent another run home for the Nationals.

Yankees Started Late.

In the next inning the Americans scored as a result of a base on balls to Knight, two infield outs and a stinging single by Mitchell. With Warhop and Wiltse going nicely, it looked like a victory for the Nationals until the eighth, when, after two men had perished, Hemphill drove the ball to left. Chase followed this hit with a terrific smash to center, which got away from Snodgrass. Hemphill scoring and Chase taking second. Knight slashed a single into left sending Chase home. Devlin tried to block Chase as he rounded third base, but Umpire Evans saw the interference and allowed the run. Snodgrass was hit by a pitched ball in the ninth. He was forced at second by Murray, who scored on a hot double by Devlin.

With only a run needed to tie the score in the ninth, Manager Chase noted that Wiltse was weakening. He ordered his men to wait the pitcher out, and in consequence Gardner, the first man up, walked. Mitchell was hit by a pitched ball and the stand went wild. Roach, batting for Warhop, laid down a sacrifice, and Austin singled to right, scoring Gardner. Mitchell taking third. Danforth hit to Devlin and Mitchell was caught at the plate. Hemphill, who had been hitting hard all day, was purposely passed, filling the bases. Wiltse, clearly rattled, could not locate the plate, and Chase, the next batter, walked, forcing in Austin with the winning run.

strong one in case business confidence continues to expand and the factors which operate to produce reactions weaken. Irregular reports are still received from leading pig iron centers, a fair tonnage of orders being placed in some districts, whereas dullness is conspicuous in others, and Bessemer and basic iron are tending toward a lower basis.

That there is general hesitation to contract for future requirements is suggested by the usual statement of unfilled orders by the steel corporation, which shows a reduction of 379,000 tons during September and the smallest monthly total, with two exceptions, on record. In finished lines conditions are mixed and it is apparent that some consumers anticipate further price concessions. The railroads are not covering distant needs freely, and there is a lessening of demand for structural material for bridge building.

Cotton goods in bleached, brown and colored have been advanced as a consequence of a larger demand and greater cost due to the rise in cotton. Leading lines of men's wear are moderately advanced. Yarns are in more active inquiry. Jobbers are doing a fair trade and are reordering in the primary market for immediate and spring delivery.

Footwear conditions continue on the whole unsatisfactory. Trade is fairly good in some kinds of leather, such as belting, harness and sole, but with My Laws? "What did you do upper stock continues slow.

THEATRICAL NOTES

AT THE KENTUCKY.

Tonight—"The Fighting Parson," melodrama.

Tuesday, Oct. 18—Al H. Wilson

in "Metz in Ireland."

Wednesday, Oct. 19—Blanche

Walsh in "The Other Woman."

Friday, Oct. 21—"Polly of the Circus."

Saturday, Oct. 22, (Matinee and Night)—"The Girl From Rector's."

Lovers of pure melodrama will be gratified by the bill at the Kentucky

theater tonight, when "The Fighting

Parson" will be presented. The company arrived this afternoon. "The Fighting Parson" plays at popular prices, and is described as a mixture of love, humor, pathos and stirring situations.

Blanche Walsh in "The Other

Woman."

More interest has been aroused in the coming of Blanche Walsh than, perhaps, any other star, not excepting Margaret Anglin. In her versatile line of character delineation

Miss Walsh has no superior in breadth of interpretation or depth of power. In "The Resurrection" the dramatization of Tolstoy's intense and moving story of the degradation of womanhood and her resurrection through love into a nobler life; in the romantic tragedy, of "La Tosca," and a long repertoire of other equally strong roles, Miss Walsh has maintained her place among the leaders of the contemporary stage. It is her first visit to Paducah. As usual her company is carefully selected and the costuming and scenic embellishments attractively designed and sumptuously furnished provided.

Al H. Wilson.

It is scarcely more than necessary to mention the fact that "Golden Voiced" Al Wilson, is coming to the Kentucky theater Tuesday night with an entirely new repertoire of beautiful songs. This season we shall see

"Metz in Ireland," where the Switzer is contrasted with Celtic types, and where he falls in love with and wins a beautiful Irish girl, besides proving his title to a large estate.

Among the scenes depicted is an accurate representation of Blarney castle. Louisville and St. Louis critics say his company is even better than usual.

"Polly of the Circus."

Frederic Thompson's "Polly of the Circus" will be at the Kentucky theater next Friday night. It will be presented here with Miss Ida St.

Leon in the titular role, supported by all the important members of the original "Polly of the Circus" company. The third act reproduction of a big ten show performance, while it could hardly be made more realistic than it has always been, will have added features to lend to its attractiveness. Among the circus acts will be the famous Barlow troupe of performing ponies and dogs.

"The Girl From Rector's"

Three hundred nights in New York is the record of "The Girl From Rector's" which comes to the Kentucky Saturday. The story tells of a young society woman from Battle

Creek, Mich., who became inspired with a desire to visit New York and see the sights of the great metropolis. Finding Rector's celebrated cafe to her liking, she makes it her headquarters and soon becomes known under the sobriquet of "The Girl From Rector's." She manages to properly see the "Great White

Way," and of course, makes many acquaintances, and the real fun of the plot comes when on her return home she finds many of her Rector friends, who, like herself, had been to New York incognito, and tries to make explanations.

DUN'S REVIEW.

New York, Oct. 15.—R. G. Dun &

Co.'s weekly review of trade says:

The better feeling noted last week is confirmed by this week's reports, and although important elections are impending, the railroad rate controversy is still unsettled and the trade recession to a point considerably below normal continues, yet there are signs of largely increased cheerfulness and some increased activity.

As a year or more, telling you that you ought to know all about the company that carries your fire insurance, but have you done anything about it? Many have, but the majority of policy-holders have done nothing about the selection of a company. They are still "fiddling."

In the history of fire insurance in America, a large majority of the fire insurance companies organized have failed or retired from business. To be insured in companies like Weil's, that have been in business a hundred years and will be in business a hundred years from now, costs no more than to be insured in one that may go out of business next week.

OCTOBER'S BRIGHT BLUE WEATHER.

O suns and skies and clouds of June And flowers of June together, Ye cannot rival for one hour October's bright, blue weather.

When all the lovely wayside things Their white-winged seeds are sowing, And in the fields, still green and fair, Late aftermath are growing.

When springs run low, and on the brooks, In idle golden freighting, Bright leaves sink noiseless in the bush Of woods, for winter waiting.

When comrades seek sweet country haunts, By twos and twos, together, And count like misers hour by hour, October's bright, blue weather.

O suns and skies and flowers of June Count all your boasts together, Love loveth best of all the year, October's bright, blue weather.

Sowell-Wilcox Wedding a Prominent Event.

A notable event of the coming week will be the wedding of Miss Caroline Magruder Sowell and Mr. Dow Wilcox on Thursday evening at 9 o'clock at the First Christian church. The social prominence and popularity of the couple as well as the brilliancy of the ceremonial mark it an occasion of especial interest.

The Rev. W. A. Fite, pastor of the church, will perform the ceremony, and Mrs. Frank N. Barnes will preside at the organ. A bridal chorus will be sung just preceding the ceremony by: Messrs. Robert Scott, Evert Thompson, Robert D. MacMillen and Frank N. Barnes.

Woman's Club to Meet Friday Afternoon.

The Woman's club will meet in regular session on Friday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock at the club house. It is the initial meeting of the club for this season, and much business of importance will come before the body. It is important that all members should be present at this meeting.

At 4 o'clock the first open meeting of the season will be held under the auspices of the Music department. Musical Interpretations of Scriptural Passages will be featured, and Miss Newell will talk on "What the Music Should Mean to the Church Service."

The change is made to Friday owing to the club house being engaged for Thursday.

Crescendo Clubs With Miss Newell. Miss Virginia Newell entertains the two Crescendo clubs, Senior and Junior, at 4 o'clock this afternoon at her studio on North Seventh street. The clubs are composed of music pupils of Miss Newell and have done some especially fine work. It is the first meeting of the Crescendo for this year and the study will be planned and the re-organization perfected. It will be a pleasant social occasion as well.

Slayden-Bailey. Miss May Slayden and Mr. Earl Bailey will be married on Monday evening at 8 o'clock at the Cumberland Presbyterian church, Twelfth and Trimble streets. The Rev. D. W. Fooks, pastor of the church, will perform the ceremony.

The bride will wear a becoming costume of white silk. There will be no attendants.

Miss Slayden is a daughter of Mrs. Amanda Slayden, 1011 Jackson street, and an attractive young girl. Mr. Bailey is the oldest son of Mr. and Mrs. D. J. Bailey, 623 South Ninth street, and a popular fireman on the Illinois Central railroad. They will reside at 814 Clark street, Paducah.

Informal Dinner-Party. Mrs. Eugene Robinson, of 1601 Broadway, was the charming hostess at a prettily appointed dinner on Thursday evening in compliment to the Rev. and Mrs. H. W. Burwell and Mrs. J. H. Shelly, of Dallas, Texas, the guests of Mrs. J. Victor Voria. The table had for its center piece an attractive arrangement of pink and white carnations and chrysanthemums. The dinner though thoroughly informal, was a most delightful affair. Covers were laid for 12.

Missionary Tea for October. The Woman's Auxiliary of Grace Episcopal church held its first Missionary Tea of the Fall and Winter season on Friday afternoon at the Parish House. The annual election of officers was held as follows: President, Mrs. Richard G. Terrell; vice president, Mrs. David Cady Wright; recording secretary, Miss Emily Morrow; corresponding secretary, Mrs. Muscoe Burnett; treasurer, Mrs. W. L. Brainerd; librarian, Miss Alice Compton.

A delightful feature of the afternoon was a most interesting account by Mrs. Elbridge Palmer of the Tri-ennial offering services at the general convention in Cincinnati, which Mrs. Palmer attended. Fifteen hundred women representing the Missionary auxiliary of the Episcopal church of America presented over $243,000.

Art Talk on Monday Evening. Mr. W. H. Leavitt will give another of his delightful talks on Monday night at the Three Links building in connection with showing his famous picture, "The Last Supper." ### New York Wedding of Interest Here.

The marriage of Miss Eunice De Bard, formerly of McMinnville, Tenn., now living in Ithaca, N. Y., to Mr. Howard Foss, of Nova Scotia, takes place this evening at the First Presbyterian church of Ithaca. It will be a brilliant church ceremonial with a number of out-of-town guests as attendants. Mr. Douglas Hagby, of Paducah, is Mr. Foss' best man. A number of pre-nuptial courtesies have been given in honor of the gracious young bride-elect.

Matinee Musical Club.

The Matinee Musical club held its initial meeting for this club year with Mrs. Hubbard S. Wells at the Shamrock, on Wednesday afternoon. Wells, president; Mrs. Hal Corbett, vice-president; Miss Virginia Newell, recording secretary; Miss Jennie Gillson, assistant secretary; Mrs. Lela Wade Lewis, corresponding secretary; Mrs. James Gruenebaum, treasurer; Mrs. George B. Hart, librarian.

Mrs. James Weille, chairman of the entertainment committee, presented plans for some special entertainments during the winter. Mrs. Weille has been in correspondence the past summer with a number of musical celebrities.

The first program meeting of the club will be on October 26 at the Woman's club house.

Ohio Wedding.

The marriage of Mr. Stanley Barnett Moore, of this city, and Miss Florence Alice Rose, of Cleveland, Ohio, will take place on Wednesday at the home of the bride, Wade Park avenue, Cleveland. It will be a simple home ceremony with the Rev. J. R. Golden, of the Euclid Avenue Christian church officiating. An informal reception will follow the ceremony and the couple will leave immediately for Paducah, where they will be at home at 220 North Eighth street.

Departmental Meeting.

The Literature department of the Woman's club successfully inaugurated its year's work on Wednesday morning at the club house. The study of English Literature this year has a most interesting outlook and doubtless will attract many to the department meetings. A large representation of the members was present and Miss Lowry, chairman, made

WANTED!

Other Stories like "Beauty Proof," in the October Red Book Magazine

The Red Book Magazine pays the highest price for exceptional short stories. Every month we must find from 15 to 20 of the greatest stories written.

For any masterpiece in fiction we will outbid all others—pay any price necessary. But ordinary stories cannot be used. We are now rejecting 1,800 a month.

We spend $40,000 on every issue of The Red Book Magazine, for we have a larger circulation and greater income than any other illustrated magazine of fiction.

We can afford to buy—and must buy—the best stories the world can supply. The Red Book Magazine has been built up by such stories together with our splendid pictures. Now a million readers, every month, expect to find here a score of unusual stories, stirring and human—the classics of modern fiction.

They demand the best stories the best writers produce, and we are willing to pay an extravagant price to supply them.

We want more thrilling stories like "Beauty Proof," the best of its kind in our October issue.

We want more heart-touching stories like James Oppenheim's "Steel." More human interest stories like "Black" or "Chum," or like Ellis Parker Butler's latest story, "Boss Grogan's Pull."

We want more adventure stories like Hugh Pendexter's "The Hold-Up," or like "The Koomeriah." More love stories like "The Exile" or "The Quitter." More men's stories like "The Great Reader." They are all in our October issue.

Every month we must fill 192 pages with such masterly stories and pictures—stories that don't disappoint.

We want the best stories written—nothing else. It matters not whether the writers are famous or unknown. A great Red Book story brings its writer immediately into national repute.

Torrey Meeting Praised.

The Rev. W. A. Swift, pastor of the Methodist church in Texarkana, Ark., where Dr. Torrey and his party held a month's meeting in March, says that besides a thousand people converted, a most remarkable spiritual uplift was given to the church life of that city. Some leading professional men have taken this stand publicly for Christ since the meeting closed. Church attendance has never been so good as now. The Bible is comparatively a new book to many people. Dr. Torrey was in Ft. Smith, Ark., some two years ago and from the meeting came an enthusiasm of church life as never before, and which still holds. If the people of Paducah will line up with Dr. Torrey in this meet there will come a blessing to this city which will be felt for years. Rev. Mr. Swift is a native of this state and is on a visit to relatives in this city and elsewhere.

Daily Thought.

Where there is no hope there can be no endeavor.—Johnson.

Whenever the people of Lexington complain that their police are idle, they go out and arrest two or three hundred gamblers to prove they have their eyes open and know what is going on.

BRAINS AND THE TARIFF.

The New York Post illustrates the inequity of the tariff by enumerating separately the articles of apparel upon the baby next door, and telling what the tariff on each article is. It finds that the flannel band is taxed 33 cents a pound; its booties are taxed 44 cents a pound, and so forth. Of course, it all sounds big, but when one considers how many pounds of each a child wears, the tax upon the parent is not so outrageously heavy, after all, amounting in the total, perhaps, to a few pennies. It is one of the favorite tricks of these apostles of protest to take a specific example, and then instead of reducing the facts to the fraction represented by the example, loading the whole burden of taxation upon one small baby.

That is the tariff case as it applies to one citizen. Now, as it applies to all, let us put the tariff defamers on the defensive awhile. How would they raise revenue to support the government if they should abolish the tariff? Would they add to the burden of our land and personal property, already heavily taxed for the support of city, county and state? Do they think a direct tax any less burdensome, than one that is laid upon importations from foreign countries brought in here to compete with our own manufactures, and distributed among all the people so evenly, that it can cost them but a few cents each?

There's a deal of rot about this denunciation of federal revenues; humbug and ignorance are its chief characteristics.

Even if they would, as some say, put the tariff on a revenue basis, instead of talking about what the rates are now, why don't these experts say what rate they would put on the baby's flannel, its rubber rattles, its booties, its knit jacket, its high chair, etc.? Surely they must know what rate is just, else they are presumptions in saying the present rate is unjust. Let some of our critics of the Payne tariff tell us what the rates of the Payne tariff are, and then tell us wherein they are wrong, what rate would be right, and why it would be right. This is not asking too much; a critic should have a reason for his criticism. If a man should tell you your house is constructed badly, you would expect him to tell you wherein the fault in construction lies, and what must be done to rectify it. You would scarcely permit him to wreck the house and try to build it again without having some definite plan other than the wrecking of it. Yet, that is just exactly what the critics of the tariff would have us do: unsettle business and lay American industry and the wage scale under the hazard of competition from cheap European labor, whose products are to be brought over here in government subsidized ships, and dumped on our markets.

Brains are just as valuable in thinking about the tariff as in thinking about anything else.

A LESSON FROM THE CENSUS.

"Let's all get together and make Cadiz the town it ought to be," says the Cadiz Record.

Whether that was a carefully thought out expression or only the hurried language of a two-line filler, it speaks to the point. The census returns show some towns making gains of more than a hundred percent in population, and others almost standing still; yet, we doubt whether investigation would show that those towns which grew the most, did any more "wind boosting" than those that stood still. Of course, the most phenomenal gains were made in the new country that ten years ago had no population to speak of, and in those cities, which profited by the opening of new tributary sections.

But leaving out of consideration these exceptional conditions, we apprehend that the towns grew most, which were most ready for growth. It is much easier to find people ready to go forth and talk and write about the advantages of a town, than to

LAWRENCE ON DEFENSIVE.

Editor George Landram, of the Smithland Banner, not having the nerve to endorse the action of Christman, Wells and Utley in their feeble efforts to run the Third senatorial district regardless of right or justice, seems to be in sympathy with their high-handed methods, and spends his time and space abusing and misrepresenting the editor of the Record.

We want it understood that we are not squealing on account of what was attempted to be done. If we can't go before the people and get them to endorse what we are for, then we are not entitled to their support, and should not win.

But Landram yells long and loud about the action of the committee in calling a primary to re-nominate Judge Nunn last fall, and says we were the ring-tailed leader in that movement.

If he had been as anxious to tell the truth as he had to misrepresent a man whose friend he had professed to be, he would have ascertained the facts before making this statement. The truth is that we refused to call that committee together for an early primary until asked to do so by a majority of the committee, as provided by the party law, notwithstanding the fact we were Judge Nunn's friend. It is further true that when the proposition for an early primary was voted on, we were one of the three who voted against it. Dan Fiser, of Marshall, and W. F. Bradshaw, Jr., of McCracken, being the other two.

Landram further says that we plunged the bloody knife, politically speaking, into Judge Reed and John Lovett. This is also maliciously untrue. We never did an injustice to Judge Reed in our life; and as to John Lovett, we were his friend at a time in his life when he needed a friend, and while he has always said he wanted the opportunity to repay that friendship, his action toward us at the meeting that called Judge Nunn's primary may be taken as an indication that his gratitude no longer exists; and the fact that he and Judge Reed both, while not living in this district, are now taking some hand in the fight in this district, may be for the purpose that they know we will not do the bidding of their friends.

It is further charged by Landram that we are trying to put John Hendrick out of business and that we are for a rich man's primary to nominate a state ticket. In reply induce people to create or develop those advantages. Now, people are attracted to a city that is healthful, has good streets and sewers, good schools, pretty homes, well kept property and prosperous looking country about it. All other things being equal, climate considered, they will choose that sort of place in which to live; they will advertise it with their compliments after a visit to it, and the town will just naturally grow.

The first thing for the organized citizens of a town to do is to canvass and sum up its advantages and disadvantages, natural and acquired. Then they must study the best means to overcome or eradicate the disadvantages and improve the advantages.

What does the city need in the way of improving its health conditions, moral conditions, schools and appearance? What is the nature of soil and climate with relation to markets, that can be utilized in developing the agricultural resources of the section to its highest wealth producing activity? What are the commercial and industrial conditions, with relation to the markets, its river and harbor facilities and railroad connections and rates? What can be done to make these the best, the rates the lowest and connections the most advantageous?

Inviting people to come to a town that is not prepared for them; that at a glance disproves all that has been said of it, is only inviting people to come and carry away with them a bad opinion to be advertised throughout the country. We know there is a widespread fad for "wind boosting" of towns over the country, and professional windstorms are even hired at fancy prices to do the blowing; but we believe the census will show that population follows natural channels.

The lesson for Paducah is obvious. New railroad projects promise to open a bright future for what will become the chief crossing of the Ohio river; but unless the city is ready for the opportunity and she cannot take full advantage of it, and reap the harvest in wealth and population, that is coming to her.

It isn't the size of the town that counts most, anyway, in the pleasure of living in it. Quality even in towns takes precedence over quantity.

Variety in Weather.

Bayou has been quite dry for a while, but had plenty rain last week.

The weather being fine last Saturday quite a lot of people attended the fair at Golconda.

Mr. W. E. Chipps came to town Thursday evening with a fine catfish and said it had been raised, but no one else it seems has been to this we will say that Colonel Hendrick has permitted a few false friends like Landram to put him out of business already; and as to the state primary, we want it understood that we are not for any plan that will place a property qualification upon any man's right to run for a state office.

Then Landram takes a whack at John Keys, of Calloway county, and does not like it because we have lined up with him and his friends. We want it understood that we are a friend to John Keys, and he is ours, and we do not care two hurs whether it suits Landram or any other of the crowd with whom he is now training.

We are at a loss to understand why it is that Landram will misrepresent us as he has done during the last two issues of his paper after assuring us that he was our friend. Not that he was for us for state senator. Even a difference of that sort should not cause a man who has the right sort of heart in him to accuse us of everything from stealing to murder.

We have been told that Conn Linn has repeatedly said that he would see to it that we were not his successor in the senate, and it looks like he has Landram employed to assist in his efforts, although Landram bitterly denounced the action of Linn during the last legislature, and has pledged his friendship to us. It all shows that when a man tries to be half way honest, whether a private citizen or an aspirant for office, there is nothing too mean for his opponents to do when they realize he will not serve them, regardless of right or justice.

We may not be elected to the senate. It may be that we shall never be a candidate, but we will say that ever since we have held official position in the party we love, we have never done anything we would not do again under the same circumstances. If that fails to please George Landram and the gang of political pirates with whom he is gangling at present, we can not help it and do not intend to try.

We shall continue to pursue the even tenor of our way, serving the people and their wishes as best we can, and if we are to remain in private life because we will not suffer ourselves to be used by a band who care nothing for the public good nor the people's rights, we shall accept it as our lot and will never complain at the result.—Cadiz Record.

Calloway Weather.

The Calloway county water carnival opens today at Murray.—Paducah Sun. You narrow, infernal, ungalloosed gallout, ain't you got no respect for a people deep in sorrow and disappointment? Nobody realizes more fully than did the Calloway folks last Wednesday morning that it was water, water, water everywhere, and not a drop to drink.—Murray Ledger.

Single Blessedness a Fib.

In a recent issue of the Tribune-Democrat we chronicled eight weddings in a week and thought Marshall county was doing her full religious duty along matrimonial lines, when lo! and behold the Stanford Interior Journal published an account of eleven weddings in Lincoln county last week. We would kindly offer as a friendly suggestion, to the editor of the Interior Journal, that he mail a marked copy of that issue to Col. Roosevelt and forever set at rest the colonel's fear of race suicide, especially in Lincoln county, Ky.—Benton Tribune-Democrat.

Attractive Art Morning.
One of the most delightful meetings ever held at the Woman's club was this morning. It was the regular session of the Art department, but the papers were called in and the hour given over to Mr. W. H. Leavitt, the artist, of Boston, who is sojourning the week in Paducah. Mr. Leavitt is an especially charming speaker and he talked in an inspiring way this morning on the "Influence of Artists Upon the World," with some personal recollections of noted men. He especially stressed the need of the formation of an American Art League to buy and to keep our notable paintings. Miss Shelton sang most attractively. Miss Brazelton was her accompanist. A large crowd was present.

Picture Exhibit to Close October 20.
The exhibition of "The Last Supper," Leavitt's wonderful painting, will close on October 20, so the days in which to see this striking work of art are limited. Mr. Leavitt's descriptive talks on the picture are delightfully given. The picture has attracted notable interest, but the Woman's club under whose auspices it came here are anticipating larger audiences during the coming week. Every day from 9 a. m. to 9 p. m. at the Three Links building.

Marriages at Lone Oak.

McKinney, of Lone Oak. A number of friends of the popular young couple witnessed the ceremony, including several from Paducah.

The house was beautifully decorated with flowers and ferns. The Rev. W. J. Naylor, of the Paducah Circuit Methodist churches performed the ceremony in an impressive manner. Mrs. J. S. Wagsdale, of Heath, played the wedding march. There were no attendants.
The bride who is an attractive young girl, wore a pretty coat suit of grey cloth with hat and gloves to harmonize. The couple left at once for Fredonia to visit the sister of Mr. Sanderson. A reception will be given them there this evening. They will reside in Paducah on their return.

A happy occasion of the morning was the presentation of a beautiful gold pin to the bride by Mrs. Joseph S. Wagsdale, in behalf of the Royal Neighbors of America, Camp 480, of which Mrs. Sanderson is a prominent officer. A number of handsome and useful gifts were received.
Out-of-town guests present at the ceremony were: Mr. and Mrs. Joseph S. Wagsdale, of Heath; Mr. and Mrs. A. M. Ragsdale, Paducah; Dr. and Mrs. Horace Rivers, Paducah; Miss Bird Gholson, Paducah.

Letter from Terre Haute Tells How Mrs. Sickler Escaped Unnecessary Operation.

Terre Haute, Ind.—"I refused to be operated on," writes Mrs. Elmer Sickler, of 464 N. Second street, "the morning of the day I heard about Cardui. I had abscesses inside, way up, and my doctor said I would have to be operated on, before I would ever get well."

"I tried Cardui. It helped me greatly. Now, I am almost well, and am not cut to pieces either. Before taking Cardui, I could not stand on my feet to do my work. Now I do my own washing and ironing."

Cardui has brought health and happiness to thousands of weak women. For over 50 years, it has been relieving women's sufferings, and building weak women up to health and strength.

Using Cardui is no experiment. It has stood the most severe of all tests—the test of time. Of how many drugs in the materia medica can this be said?

If your druggist is a friend, ask him confidentially whether he recommends Cardui. He will tell you the truth.

Card of Thanks.
We want to express our thanks from the very depth of our hearts for the kindness shown to us by our friends during the illness and death of our little darling, Emily Cain Payton. While we have not been here long, yet we could not have been treated more kindly, gently and lovingly, by a mother's care, than we were by the friends. And we will say if we ever have a chance, we will prove our gratitude by deeds of love and kindness.

The funeral of our little one was conducted at our residence, by Dr. Burwell, pastor of the First Presbyterian church, at 2 o'clock p. m., after which the remains were laid to rest in Oak Grove cemetery, where there were met with the same sympathizing crowd of friends with outstretched hands prompted by a heart of love.

"SUNBEAM CHORUS" APPEALS TO REVIVAL CROWDS.

Children Sing Stirring Songs
Under Leadership of Mr.
McEwan—Sing Tomorrow
Afternoon and Monday.

The "Sunbeam chorus", composed of one hundred children, comprised an attractive feature of the Torrey revival at the Auditorium, Tenth street and Broadway, at last night's service. The children sang beautifully and effectively under the leadership of Mr. McEwan, and little May D. Guedry, eight years old, sang as a solo, "Then I Shall Meet Him Face to Face." She has a sweet voice, melodious and full, and she sang her song accurately and in a simple, unaffected manner.

Mr. McEwan sang two solos and several people responded to the call for repentance. Tomorrow afternoon at 3 o'clock a special children's service will be held.

Among the most effective chorus sung by the "Sunbeams" last night was "America," in which they waved flags as they sang. Every number was sung with precision and volume, demonstrating Mr. McEwan's undoubted ability in chorus work. The children will sing the "Sunbeam song" tomorrow afternoon, and another juvenile solo will sing. The "Sunbeams" will sing again Monday night.

Last night Dr. Torrey spoke on "The Need for a Place of Refuge."

He said:
"A good many years ago I was traveling on the continent visiting some of the art galleries of Germany, and

I saw a picture in the new art gallery in Munich that made a very deep impression on my mind.

"It represented the approach of a storm; the thunder clouds were rolling up thick and ominous; the trees were bending before the first approach of the oncoming tempest. Horses and cattle were scurrying across the fields in fright, and a little company of men, women and children, with bowed forms, blanched faces and terror depicted in every look and action, were running before the storm in search of a hiding place.

"I do not suppose it was the artist's intention, but it has always seemed to me that this picture was an accurate representation of every human life. Every man and woman needs a hiding place.

"You say a hiding place from what? A hiding place from four things.

From Accusing Conscience.

"1. A hiding place needed from an accusing conscience.—First of all, everyone of us needs a hiding place from the accusations of our own conscience.

"Every man and woman here tonight has a conscience, and every man and woman here tonight has sinned against their own conscience.

"There is no torment like the torment against their own conscience.

"We do not have to go to the Word of God to find that out. We find it in heathen literature as well. It was not a Christian poet, but a heathen of about the time of Christ, the Latin poet Juvenal, who said:

"Trust me, no torture that the poets feign
Can match the fierce, unutterable pain
He feels, who, night and day, devoid of rest, Carries his own accuser in his breast."

It was another heathen poet, though he lived in a Christian land, the poet Lord Byron, who wrote:

"Thus the dark in soul expire
Or live like scorpion, wirt with fire,
Thus writhe the soul remorse hath riven,
Unfit for earth, undoomed for heaven;
Darkness above, despair beneath,
Around him gloomed, within him death."

But we do not need to go to the poets to find out the torments of an accusing conscience. We find them round about us every day in actual life and experience.

"One night at the close of a service at the church of which I am now pastor in Chicago, there came to me a woman with a haunted face and said, 'I would like to see you in private.' I replied, 'If you will come to my office tomorrow at 2 p. m., I will have the pastor there; and if you have anything to say we shall be glad to listen.' The next day at 2 o'clock the woman came to my office, and Mr. Hyde, the pastor, was present, and I said to the woman, 'Now what is the trouble?' She made an effort to speak, and failed. Again I said, 'What is the trouble?' Now she made an effort and again failed. For the third time I said, 'What is the trouble?'

"We cannot help you unless you tell us your trouble." Then she gasped out:

"I have killed a man. It was fourteen years ago, across the Atlantic ocean, in the Old Country, in the darkness of a forest, I drove a dagger into a man's throat, and dropped the dagger and ran away. He was found in the forest with the dagger by his side. Nobody suspected me, but everybody thought he had committed suicide. I stayed there two years, and nobody ever suspected me, but I knew I had done it, and was wretched, and at last I came to America to see if I could find peace here. First I went to New York and then came to Chicago, and I have been here twelve years, but have not found peace. I often go to the lake, and stand on the pier and look into the dark waters beneath, and I would jump in if I were not afraid of what may lie beyond death."

"Haunted and hunted by her own conscience for fourteen years! Hell on earth.

Well, some one says, I can very readily see how a person who has committed so awful a deed as that, staining her hands with human blood should be haunted by her conscience. But I have never done a thing like that. That may be, but you have sinned; and when conscience points at us the finger of accusation, we do not so much balance up the greatness of the smallness of our sin.

"But you say, 'My conscience does not trouble me.' That may be, for it is a well known physiological fact that conscience sometimes sleeps; but conscience never dies.

The day is coming when that sleeping conscience of yours will awaken, and your conscience will point at you the finger of accusation, and woe be unto the man whose conscience wakes up, who has no hiding place from his own conscience.

In the city of Toronto years ago there was a young girl who had drifted there from the country. She had heard of the gaieties of the place and had left her home and come there for a life of pleasure, going to theaters and dances and amusements of that sort, and like many another that goes to the great city with the same object she was caught in the maelstrom of the city's sin, and had gone down, down, down into a life of shame. Her conscience did not trouble her; but one night the Fiske Jubilee Singers were singing in Toronto, and some friends asked the girl to go and hear them, and she did. At last they came to that hymn with the weird refrain:

"My mother once, my mother twice,
My mother she'll rejoice;
In heaven once, in heaven twice,
My mother she'll rejoice."

The poor girl was sitting up in the gallery, and as she heard the strains of that chorus floating up to her, all the memory of her childhood came back; she was a child, and at home again, in the old home. It was evening; the lamp stood upon the table, and her sweet-faced mother sat there with open Bible on her lap, and she a little girl of four, with golden hair, was kneeling at her mother's knee, learning to pray. It all came back again to her. Again the Jubilee Singers came to that refrain:

"My mother once, my mother twice,
My mother she'll rejoice;
In heaven once, in heaven twice,
My mother she'll rejoice."

And as those words came floating up again, the hot blood came to the girl's cheeks, she sprang to her feet and rushed down the stairs out into the streets of the great city. On, on, on, as fast as her feet, now growing weary, could take her, out beyond the gaslights into the country; and next morning, when a certain farmer came to his farm house door, there was the poor girl, clutching the threshold, dead; hunted to death by her own conscience.

Oh, there are men and women here tonight whose consciences are asleep, but whose consciences will some day awaken, and woe be to the man or woman whose conscience wakes up and who has no hiding place from it.

From Sin Within.

2. A hiding place needed from the power of sin within ourselves.—In the second place, we need a hiding place from the power of sin within ourselves. Now every man and woman here tonight who know themselves at all well know that there are powers of evil resident within themselves which are more than they can master in their own strength. If there is any man or woman who thinks they have a complete mastery over themselves, if there is any man who thinks he has power to break away in his own strength from the sin that is within, he is a sadly deceived man. There are some people here tonight with the overmastering appetite for strong drink.

There are others who do not care for it at all, but are enslaved by other sins. Others have a passion for gambling. Others care for neither of these, but have a love for other things. With another it is an ungovernable temper; with others it is a sharp, unkind, censorious tongue. With some it is one thing and with some another.

But with every man and woman of us within these four walls there is the power of sin within ourselves, which is more than we can master in our own strength. We need a hiding place from the power of sin within.

I remember one night a young man came to me at the close of a meeting like this, in Minneapolis, and he said, 'I heard you speaking in the street tonight, and I said to myself, 'that man can help me,' and I have come here and stayed through the service. Will you now help me?' I said I would be very glad to do so if I could. He said, 'Listen; I was employed down in Pennsylvania and I got to leading a fast life. Now,' he said, 'you know that a fast life costs money.'

"It cost me more than I earned, and I put my hand into my employer's money-bag and took his money. Of course I was caught, but my employer was a good man. He might have sent me to prison; instead of that, he said, 'You must go to the northwest. It is a new country; begin life anew up there.' They sent me here, and I have now a good position, as you see by my uniform," and he pointed to it.

"But," he said, "I am going just the same way in Minneapolis that I went in Pennsylvania."

"I am afraid to leave this hall tonight. Before I get a block from the hall, I shall meet some one who knows me, and just as sure as I do I am lost."

You may have no weakness in the direction that this young man had and again you may have; but every man and woman here has the power of sin within that is more than they can master in their own strength. We need a hiding place from the power of sin within.

3. A hiding place needed from the power of the devil.—In the third place, we need a hiding place from the power of the devil. There are a great many people who are too wise to believe in the existence of a personal devil. I believe in the existence of a personal devil.

I will tell you why. In the first place, because the Old Book says so, and I have found that the man who believes in the Bible always comes out ahead in the long run, and that the man who is too wise and too advanced to believe in the Word of God comes out behind in the long run, every time.

Now, there was a time when I was so wise that I believed so much of the Bible as was wise enough to agree with me. Thank God, that time has passed. Thank God, He has opened my eyes and ears until I have come to the place here I know—I wish I had time to tell you how I know—that that Book, from the first chapter to the last, is the very Word of God.

Now this book teaches us that there is a personal devil. Turn to 1 St. Peter v, 8: "Because your adversary, the devil, as a roaring lion, walketh about, seeking whom he may devour." Ephesians vs. 11, 12: "Put on the whole armor of God, that ye may be able to stand against the wiles of the devil. For we wrestle not against flesh and blood, but against principalities, against powers, against the rules of the darkness of this world, against spiritual wickedness in high places." But, friends, there is another reason why I believe in a personal devil, and that is, because of the teaching of my own experience and my common sense.

Years ago a great Frenchman of science was crossing the Arabian desert under the leadership of an Arab guide. When the sun was setting in the west, the guide spread his praying rug down upon the ground and began to pray. When he had finished the man of science stood looking at him with scorn, and asked him what he was doing. He said, "I am praying." "Praying! Praying to whom?" "To Allah, to God." The man of science said, "Did you ever see God?" "No." "Did you ever hear God?" "No." "Did you ever put out your hands and touch God and feel Him?" "No." "Then you are a great fool to believe in a God you never saw, a God you never heard, a God you never put out your hands and touched. The Arab guide said nothing.

ing. They retired for the night, rose early the next morning and a little before sunrise they went out from the tent. The man of science said to the Arab guide, "There was a camel around this tent last night." With a peculiar look in his eye, the Arab said:

"Did you see the camel?" "No."

"Did you hear the camel?" "No."

Mosquito Poisoning.

The pestiferous mosquito is holding high carnival in the city tonight; neither screen nor bar excludes him from the bed-chamber; he seems to permeate the cracks and crevices and sing his nocturnal lullabies 'till we are exhausted and lose consciousness in sleep, when he gives us a hypodermic injection of malaria and other diseases according to his venom; from these conditions there is no escape; oil on ponds and gutters, now will not save us from this disease breeding and death dealing monster; but it is a pleasure to know that, while Hays Specific will not save us from these conditions, it will cure us of these poisons by purifying the blood and removing the cause for chills and fever.

Would Remove Cincinnati Chief. Cincinnati, Oct. 15.—Because of conditions in the police department revealed by Safety Director Small's investigation of graft, Col. Paul M. Milliken was ordered to resign from the office of chief by Mayor Schwab today. No mention of Col. Milliken as an alleged partaker of "graft" had been made, but the mayor held that he should have been conversant with conditions and corrected them.

Col. Milliken refused to tender his resignation and says he will fight every effort to cause his removal.

NO MORE GRAY HAIR

It is easier to preserve the color of the hair than to restore it, although it is possible to do both. Our grandmothers understood the secret. They made and used a "sage tea," and their dark, glossy hair long after middle life was due to this fact. Our mothers have gray hairs before they are fifty, but they are beginning to appreciate the wisdom of our grandmothers in using "sage tea" for their hair, and are fast following suit. The present generation has the advantage of the past in that it can get a ready to use preparation called Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur. As a scalp tonic and color restorer, this preparation is vastly superior to the ordinary "sage tea" made by our grandmothers, and it can be bought for 50 cents and $1 a bottle at almost any first-class drug store, or will be sent direct by the Wyeth Chemical Company, 74 Cortlandt St., New York City, upon receipt of price.

TORREY'S SERMON

"Did you put out your hand and touch the camel?" "No." "Well, you are a strange man of science to believe in a camel you never saw, a camel you never heard, a camel you never put out your hands and touched." "Oh, but," said the other, "here are his footprints all around the tent." Just then the sun was rising in all its oriental splendor, and with a graceful wave of his barbaric hand, the guide said, "Behold the footprints of the Creator, and know that there is a God." I think the untutored savage had the best of the argument.

Friends, we see everywhere in this magnificent universe the Footprints of the Creator.

But, alas! we see everywhere in human society the footprints of the enemy. Why, you have only to walk the streets of any city and you see the footprints of Satan; you see them in the dens of infamy, in the faces of the men and women on the streets, and, alas! alas!

You see the footprints of Satan in the homes of culture and refinement. What means it that men and women of refinement, fall under the power of all these strange delusions, of Christian Science, theosophy and all that sort of nonsense? It means that there is a devil—cunning, subtle, masterly, marvelous—more than a match for you and me in cunning, in power. We need a hiding place from the subtlety, the cunning, the power, of the devil.

4. A Hiding Place Needed From the Wrath to Come.—In the fourth place, we need a hiding-place.

From the Wrath to Come.
There are a great many people who do not believe that there is "a wrath to come." I do. Why? Again, because the Old Book says so. The Old Book says, as I showed you Monday night that "God has appointed a day in which He will judge the world in righteousness," and God has given assurance of this by raising Jesus Christ from the dead. The Old Book says:

"There is to be a day of wrath and revelation of the righteous judgment of a holy and outraged God." I believe this because the Bible says so.

Another reason why I believe that there is "a wrath to come" is that my common sense says so. Look here, here is a man who grows rich by overreaching his neighbors, grows rich by robbing the widow and the orphan.

He does it by legal means. Oh, yes, he is too cunning to come within reach of the law. But he grows rich by making other people poor. He increases in wealth and is honored and respected. When he goes down the streets in his magnificent equipage, the gentleman on the street turns and says to his son: "There goes Mr. So-and-So, a man of rare business ability, a man who is now one of our leading men of capital. I hope, my boy, when you grow up, you will be as successful as he."

He lives in honor, dies in honor, lies respected by everybody—almost. And the victims of his rapacity, the victims of his oppression, the victims of his dishonesty lie yonder bleaching in the potters' field, where they have gone prematurely because of his robbery. Do you mean to tell me that there will not be a day when these men who have lived on wealth wrung from the poor widow and orphan will not have to go before a righteous God and answer for it and received what they never received in this world, the meet reward of their dishonesty? Of course, there is a hell. If there is not, then there ought to be.

Look here, here is a man who goes through life never giving God one thought from one year to another. He leaves God out of his business, leaves God out of his social life, leaves God out of his study, leaves God out of his pleasures, and makes God's day a day of pleasure. God's day a day of pleasure, God's book never opened, God's Son trampled under foot. And thus the man lives, and thus he dies, going through the world ignoring the God that made him and gave His Son to die upon the cross to save him. Do you mean to tell me that there will not be a day when that man will have to go up before a righteous God and answer these questions: "What did you do with My Day?" "What did you do with My Laws?" "What did you do with My Word?" "What did you do with My Son?" Of course, there is a hiding place from it, every one of us, for every one of us has sinned and come short of the glory of God.

One Hiding Place.

There are then these four things from which we need a hiding-place: our own conscience, the power of sin within, the power and subtlety of the devil and the wrath to come.

Is there a hiding place? I read my text last: "A man shall be as a hiding place from the wind and a covert from the tempest, as the shadow of a great rock in a weary land." A man shall be—

who is that man? There is just one man that is a hiding place the God-Man, Jesus Christ. He is a hiding place from conscience. I have told you part of a story, and I will now tell you the rest. When that woman came and told me how she had been haunted by her conscience for 14 years, I took the Bible and said to her, "Do you believe what is written in this book?" she said, "Yes, sir, I believe it all. I was brought up in the Lutheran church." "All right," I said, "listen" (Isaiah 1:1). "All we like sheep have gone astray." "Oh, sir," she said, "it is."

"We have turned every one to his own way." Is that true of you? Oh, yes, that is the trouble. It is true. I said, "What are you?" She said, "I am lost." "Very well, listen to the rest of it: 'And the Lord hath laid on Him the iniquity of us all.' Now," I said, "it is Jesus Christ." "Well," I said, "And the Lord hath laid on Jesus Christ the iniquity of us all."

"Now," I said, "let my Bible represent yourself, let my right hand represent you, and my left hand Jesus Christ." I closed the Bible and repeated the text: "All we like sheep have gone astray. We have turned every one to his own way." And laid my Bible in my right hand and said, "Where is your sin now?" She said, "It is on me." "Well, listen," the Lord hath laid on Him the iniquity of us all." And I laid the Bible over on the other hand. "Where is your sin now?" She hesitated and then said, "It is on Jesus Christ."

"Right!" I said: "Is it on you any longer, then?" It was a few moments before she spoke, and then she burst out with a cry of joy: "No, it is of Jesus Christ!"

That woman, who had been haunted by her conscience for 14 years went from my office that day with the peace of God in her heart. Is there a man or woman here haunted with the memory of the past? Christ is a hiding-place and there is peace to night for you in Him.

Christ is hiding-place from sin within.

I knew a young man belonging to a good family, highly educated, with noble aspirations, but completely overmastered by sin in one of its most loathsome forms. He tried to break away; tried to be a man, but failed, and he went down, deeper and deeper, until at last he was in despair and on the verge of a suicide's grave and one awful night when despair had settled on his soul, he cried to God for Christ's sake, and Christ set him free. And never once did he fall into that sin again.

I know a man—I think I never knew a man in my life more completely in the power of Satan than he was—a man of brilliant intellectual gifts, the most remarkable orator I ever heard. And yet he had gone down, and had fallen into the power of Satan, gone down until his friends had all left him, until his wife and children were wanderers, and he was a tramp on the streets.

The man had gone down so low that on one occasion I was told he threw his poor wife down on the floor (one of the noblest women who ever stood by a fallen husband), and stamped on her with his heel. I said to him, "John, you ought to be repentant." He said, "Well, I don't believe as you do. I do not believe in God or in your Bible." "But," I said, "John, that does not make any difference; if you will take Jesus Christ as your Savior, He will save you, and if you do not take Him, you are lost."

"A few months afterwards, in another city, he went to his wretched garret, and threw himself upon Christ, and Jesus Christ met him and saved him and transformed him, and today he is one of the most honored men in our land. There is no mere speculation about the religion of Jesus Christ." It is a present-day demonstrable reality. It is not merely that Christ saved people 1900 years ago; He is saving them today in Paducah.

Once more, Christ is a hiding-place from the wrath to come.

Now, of course, I cannot prove that from experience, for it lies in the future; but I can prove it by an argument that is unanswerable. That argument is this:

The Christ that has power to save men from the power of sin now certainly has power to save them from the consequences of sin hereafter.

Is not that a good argument?

Let me add, that any religion that is not saving you from the power of sin today will not save you from the consequences of sin in eternity.

There is a lot of religion in this world that is absolutely worthless. People will tell you that they are Christians and that they are religious. They are saying their prayers, and doing all sorts of things.

I will ask you a question: "Have you got that kind of faith in Jesus Christ that is saving you from the power of sin today?" If you have, you have that kind of faith in Jesus Christ that will save you from the consequences of sin hereafter.

But if you have that kind of faith in Jesus Christ which after all is not faith, which is not saving you now, you have that kind of faith in Jesus Christ that won't save you from the penalty of sin hereafter.

Friends, Jesus Christ is a refuge, a hiding-place from conscience and its accusations, from the power of sin within, from the power of Satan, from the wrath to come, from all that man needs a hiding-place from. Who will come to this hiding-place tonight?

This world famous rifle shot who holds the championship record of 100 consecutive shots is living at Lincoln, Ill. Recently interviewed, he says:—"I suffered a long time with kidney trouble and used several well known kidney medicines, all of which gave me no relief until I started taking Foley Kidney Pills. Before I used Foley Kidney Pills I had severe backaches and pains in my kidneys with suppression and a cloudy voiding. On arising in the morning I would get dull headaches. Now I have taken three bottles of Foley Kidney Pills and feel 100 per cent better. I am never bothered with my kidneys or bladder and again feel like my own self." Gilbert's drug store.

ICE TOO LOW

INDEPENDENT COMPANY LOST MONEY IN THE WAR.

Seeks to Recover From Warring Local Concerns in Court.

As a sequel to the ice war that was waged in Paducah this summer between rival retail dealers, H. T. Vogel and Richard Calissi, partners in the Independent Ice and Coal company, filed suit against the G. W. Robertson Ice company, George W. Robertson, George H. Robertson, Paducah Brewery company, J. W. Keller, A. L. Livingston, Charles G. Vohlkamp, Frank Fear Brewing company, A. C. Mitchell, Henderson Brewing company, C. E. Miller, F. W. Cook Brewing company and A. J. Reitz for $10,000. They allege that the defendants entered into a trust and pool and reduced the price of ice in order to drive the plaintiffs out of business. They ask that the master commissioner take proof to ascertain their losses as a result of the cut in prices.

The plaintiffs entered into a contract with an ice company in Illinois to sell its ice. Early in the summer the Paducah Ice company tried to force the independent company to purchase ice, it is said. However, the Paducah Ice company allied itself with a foreign brewing company and sold beer at a reduced price. As a result the Paducah Brewery company got into the fight and sold ice for a still lower price to the Robertson company. As a result the price dropped lower than the independent company paid, and they were in a bad fix. Their sales decreased, and now they seek reimbursement. The suit was filed by Attorneys Oliver & Oliver and Attorney Sam H. Crossland. The suit will be tried in equity.

IS YOUR LIFE INSURED?

If it isn't and you should die tonight, would YOUR loved ones have to suffer hardships that you might have prevented by a little foresight and a small investment of part of your earnings in a COMMONWEALTH Industrial Policy? COMMONWEALTH policies are always paid PROMPTLY and IN FULL—no matter when death occurs. Read the following letter:

Louisville, Ky., Oct. 6, 1910.

Gentlemen:—I am in receipt through your assistant Superintendent, Mr. F. W. Russell, of the sum of $105.23 in full settlement of the amount due me under policy No. 3070 for $100.00 on the life of my husband, Mr. John W. Terry, who died October 3, 1910, the above amount including the face of the policy of $100.00 and the Mortuary Dividend of $5.00.

I want to assure you that I appreciate the liberal provisions of your policy, as thereby I have received $5.00 in excess of what otherwise would have been paid me, and I also want to thank you for your promptness in settling this claim, as although my husband was insured in two other companies, the Commonwealth was the first to pay its claim.

Very truly yours,
SARAH A. TERRY, Beneficiary.
